A Season of Return: Lent Begins

Easter comes early this year. So do Lent and Holy Week. Very soon, we will celebrate Ash Wednesday in the middle of the month, and we will hear the words from Genesis 3:19: “You are dust, and to dust you shall return,” as the sign of the cross is traced on our foreheads. The marks left on our foreheads are nothing less than signs that we live by God's mercy. We want to remember this as we begin this season of preparation.

Lent is a season that invites us to pause and be mindful as we prepare our hearts and minds for Christ's work on the cross. With compassion and truth, we adopt new habits and examine our lives carefully. Traditionally, Christians observe Lent through practices such as prayer, fasting, reading Scripture, and acts of service, which are all ways in which God meets us, shapes us, and renews us.

For some, Lent may mean giving something up. For others, it may mean taking something up: A daily prayer practice, time spent reading Scripture, intentional generosity, or service to neighbors in need. Whatever form it takes, the heart of Lent is not self-denial for its own sake, but deeper discipleship—growing in love for God and neighbor.

Above all, Lent is a season of hope. It reminds us that God is not done with us. No matter how far we may feel from where we want to be spiritually, God is always ready to welcome us with grace. As the prophet Joel declares, “Return to the Lord your God, for He is merciful and compassionate, slow to anger and rich in love.”

As we embark together on this Lenten journey, I pray that this season will be marked by gentle honesty, meaningful growth, and renewed confidence in God's unfailing love. May we walk this path together, supporting one another and keeping our eyes fixed on the promise of Easter that awaits us.

Grace and peace,
Pastor Rachel
